MEMORANDUM.

November 10, 1926.

A Mr. C. B. Reynolds, 130 West 42nd Street telephoned the following message;

At the time of the first discovery of this Hall-Mills business, Willie Stevens visited the ground where the murder took place and picked up from the ground one of Dr. Hall's visiting cards that was left there and subsequently laid it down.

(This appeared in a New York paper believed either to have been the Times or the Sun, date not known, and read by his wife.)

Another report was to the effect that the Pig Woman had asked a man if he had seen her in the lane that night and he said no, and she told him it would be worth $100 if he could remember it.
